3 · AT ACCEPTANCE — $2,550
Put in escrow after Stage 1. Released when Owner accepts the finished job.

How to read this Agreement: the left column is the Agreement. The right column says the same thing in plain words and is there to help; if the two differ, the left column controls.

01 The work

Contractor will provide all labor, materials and supervision to complete the work listed below at the Property (the “Work”), in four stages. Anything not listed in this section is not part of the Work.

IN PLAIN WORDS
This list is the job. If something is not here, it is not in the price.

STAGE	INCLUDED	CLOSES WHEN
1 · Demo and rough-in	Floor protection and dust control · Remove tub · Remove tile · Remove vanity and top · Remove toilet · Haul-off · Shower niche · Shower bench · Blocking for glass and grab bars · Tub-to-shower conversion · New shower valve · Hand shower · GFCI outlets · Vanity light wiring · Exhaust fan and duct Owner confirms: layout, before rough-in	The rough-in inspection passes
2 · Walls and waterproofing	Drywall · Tile backer board · Shower pan · Wall waterproofing · Curb	The shower pan test passes
3 · Tile and finishes	Floor tile · Shower wall tile · Shower floor tile · Niche and bench tile · Grout and seal · Trim and baseboard · Vanity cabinet · Countertop Owner confirms: tile layout, before it is set	Contractor marks it done, with photos
4 · Fixtures and completion	Toilet · Sink and faucet · Shower trim and heads · Install Owner’s lights · Install Owner’s fan · Switches and outlets · Mirror or medicine cabinet · Towel bars and accessories · Caulk and final clean Owner confirms: accessory placement, before they go up	The final inspection passes and Owner accepts the Work

02 What the price assumes

IN PLAIN WORDS
An allowance is a budget inside the price for things you pick. Go over it and you pay the difference; stay under and you get it back.

The Price is based on the following. A different choice by either party is a Change under Section 10.

Built with. Shower pan: liner and mortar bed. Shower walls: cement board with waterproofing. Shower valve: pressure-balance.

OWNER'S SELECTIONS	ALLOWANCE
Tile	$900
Vanity and top	$1,800
Faucets and shower trim	$1,200

If Owner's selection costs more than its allowance, the difference is added by a Change. If it costs less, the difference is credited to Owner on the next payment.

03 Owner's part, and what is not included

IN PLAIN WORDS
What is on this list is yours to do or buy. The job can close before your part is finished.

Owner's part. Owner will (a) buy the lights, which Contractor will install; (b) buy the fan, which Contractor will install; (c) do the following work: paint walls and ceiling; and (d) order and install the glass shower door through a company of Owner's choice. Contractor will provide wall blocking for the glass and is not responsible for the glass or its installation.

Not included. Hidden damage found after demo (see Section 11); repairs outside the bathroom; mold, asbestos or lead work.

04 Price and payments

IN PLAIN WORDS
Money comes before the work it pays for. You pay the contractor, never TEFCO, for the job.

The price for the Work is $17,000 (the "Price"). It is a fixed price. Owner pays Contractor directly. TEFCO does not hold or move these payments.

PAYMENT	WHEN IT IS DUE	AMOUNT
Deposit	Within 3 business days after both parties sign	$8,500
Stage payment	Within 3 business days after Stage 1 closes	$5,950
Set-aside	Paid into escrow within 3 business days after Stage 1 closes; released under Section 5	$2,550

Contractor is not required to order materials before the deposit is received, or to start Stage 2 before the stage payment is received and the set-aside is funded. Accepted methods: Zelle, or a check payable to Azimuth X LLC. An amount unpaid more than 10 days after it is due bears interest at the legal rate under North Carolina law.

05 Escrow set-aside

IN PLAIN WORDS
The last 15% waits with a neutral holder until you accept the job. The contractor knows the money is there.

The set-aside is held by a licensed escrow provider, separate from the funds of TEFCO and of either party. It is released to Contractor when Owner accepts the Work under Section 12. If the parties disagree about an item, the amount not in dispute is released, and the disputed amount stays in escrow until the parties agree in writing or a mediator or court decides.

06 Schedule

IN PLAIN WORDS
A target, not a promise to the day. A delay has to be explained.

Contractor will start in the week of November 16, 2026, on a day Owner confirms in TEFCO, and expects to finish in about 22 working days. The schedule extends for Changes; for delays in Owner's selections, payments or check-ins; for inspection scheduling by the county; for weather; and for supply delays outside Contractor's control. Contractor will tell Owner promptly about any delay and its cause.

07 Permits, inspections and code

Contractor will obtain the building permit and schedule the required inspections. The Work will comply with the North Carolina State Building Code in effect when the permit is issued. Plumbing and electrical work will be performed by contractors licensed in North Carolina for that trade. This job has three inspections: rough-in, shower pan test, and final.

IN PLAIN WORDS
The county inspector checks the hidden work before it is covered.

08 How a stage closes

A stage closes when every item in it is marked done with the required photos and its closing event in Section 1 has occurred. Contractor records each inspection result in TEFCO with a photo of the signed card or of the permit record. If an inspection does not pass, Contractor corrects the work at its own cost and requests a re-inspection.

IN PLAIN WORDS
Where an inspection applies, a stage never closes on the contractor's word alone.

09 Owner check-ins

Before the work marked "Owner confirms" in Section 1, Contractor will send Owner the layout with photos. Owner will answer within 2 business days. After Owner confirms, a change to that layout is a Change at Owner's cost. If the Work is built differently from what Owner confirmed, Contractor corrects it at its own cost. If Contractor proceeds without asking, a later correction of that item is at Contractor's cost.

IN PLAIN WORDS
Two minutes now instead of opening a wall later. Confirmed means agreed.

10 Changes

Any change to the Work, the Price or the schedule (a "Change") must be written in TEFCO and approved by Owner with an emailed code before the changed work starts. Oral changes are not binding.

A Change of less than $1,000 is paid in full when approved. A Change of $1,000 or more is paid in three parts, in the same proportions as the Price: an amount before the changed work starts, which is not less than the cost of its materials; an amount when the stage containing the Change closes; and 15% added to the escrow set-aside.

IN PLAIN WORDS
Nothing changes by conversation alone. A change is paid the same way as the job.

11 Hidden conditions

If Contractor finds a condition that could not reasonably be seen before demolition, Contractor will stop the affected work, show Owner photos, and propose a Change. Owner may approve the Change, or direct Contractor to go on without that work where doing so is safe and lawful.

IN PLAIN WORDS
Rot or old wiring behind the wall is nobody's fault. It is priced when it is found, not guessed in advance.

12 Completion and acceptance

After the final inspection passes, Owner will walk through the Work within 5 business days, using the guided list in TEFCO, and send Contractor any items. For each item Contractor will answer: will fix; not in this Agreement; or meets this Agreement, with a note and a photo. When the items are resolved, Owner accepts the Work with an emailed code.

Acceptance releases the set-aside, starts the warranty and closes the project. Owner will not withhold acceptance for anything that is Owner's part under Section 3.

IN PLAIN WORDS
You accept with a code. That is the moment the escrow is paid out.

13 Warranty

Contractor warrants its workmanship for one year from acceptance and will repair, at no charge, defects in workmanship reported in that year. Manufacturers' warranties on products pass to Owner. This warranty does not cover Owner-supplied items, normal wear, or damage caused by others. Nothing in this section limits a warranty implied by North Carolina law.

IN PLAIN WORDS
One year on workmanship, in writing.

14 Licenses and insurance

Contractor holds the North Carolina general contractor license shown on page 1. Contractor will carry the insurance required by North Carolina law for the Work. Contractor will provide a certificate of insurance on request.

15 Liens and lien waivers

Each time Contractor records a payment as received in TEFCO, Contractor issues Owner a lien waiver for that amount. On the final payment Contractor issues a final lien waiver. Contractor will pay its subcontractors and suppliers for the Work and will keep the Property free of their liens for amounts Owner has paid. The parties' rights under Chapter 44A of the North Carolina General Statutes are otherwise unchanged.

IN PLAIN WORDS
A lien waiver is the contractor's signed statement that he was paid and gives up the right to claim that amount against your home.

16 Lead-safe work

If the home was built before 1978, Contractor will follow the federal and North Carolina lead-safe renovation rules and give Owner the "Renovate Right" pamphlet before starting.

17 Default and termination

If Owner does not make a payment within 10 days after it is due, Contractor may stop work until it is paid. If either party materially breaches this Agreement and does not cure within 10 days after written notice, the other party may terminate it. On termination Owner pays for the Work completed and the materials ordered to that date, less any cost to correct defective Work.

IN PLAIN WORDS
Either side gets written notice and ten days to fix a problem before the other can walk away.

18 Disputes

The parties will first try to resolve a dispute by talking, then by mediation in the county where the Property is located, sharing the mediator's fee equally. After that, either party may bring a claim in the state courts of North Carolina in that county. North Carolina law governs this Agreement.

IN PLAIN WORDS
Talk first, then a mediator, then a North Carolina court.

19 TEFCO's role

TEFCO (Trade Engine For Contractors and Owners Corp., a Delaware corporation) provides the software in which this Agreement, its Changes, payment records, photos and lien waivers are kept. TEFCO is not a party to this Agreement, is not a contractor, and does not guarantee either party's performance. Each party pays TEFCO a fee of $99 when both have signed.

IN PLAIN WORDS
TEFCO keeps the record. The deal is between the two of you.

20 Electronic signatures and entire agreement

The parties agree to sign electronically. Entering the code emailed by TEFCO is a signature under the North Carolina Uniform Electronic Transactions Act. This Agreement, with any Changes approved under Section 10, is the entire agreement between the parties and replaces earlier estimates and discussions.

IN PLAIN WORDS
The code you type is your signature.
